

Exact Software: Integrated Solution

“I use the same information system at home, on the road and at the office. The same goes for my coworkers around the world. A single data store integrating all business functions makes everything work so much more efficiently.”

Exact Globe Enterprise is a back office system that links your company's financial and logistic accounts to operational information from your business processes.

By using this back office system together with Exact e-Synergy, you ensure that the information from Exact Globe Enterprise is also accessible in your front office as well. The two systems run on a single database, and are fully integrated.

Through the Internet, your entire organization works with a single system and the same, up-to-date information. Enter data only once. Single data-entry means fewer mistakes, lower overhead and reduced IT management costs. Reporting is current and accurate.

With Exact Globe Enterprise and Exact e-Synergy, Exact Software offers you a tool for real-time cooperation and financial monitoring.

The integrated solution from Exact Software provides financial insight. In Exact Globe Enterprise, transactions produced by your business process are handled in real-time, which means you have insight into your operating result at any given moment. Usually, the flow of information would stop here, but Exact e-Synergy ensures that key employees can access this information, depending on the security levels you set. The link between process and result is clear to everyone, without the need to combine all sorts of files, or consult with others, or employ external reports. User-friendly, conveniently arranged, and always up-to-date.

- Changes in the front office are directly implemented in the back office and vice versa
